Jack raises £2,000-plus for hospital

RENEWED APPEAL IN MEMORY OF BLOSSOM

Local community and businesses urged to help charity named after tragic tot to achieve £500,000 funding target to create dedicated swimming training centre

Report by Henry James

ORGANISERS of the charity Blossom's Legacy, launched following the tragic death of four-year-old Blossom Iris Kelly from Skelmersdale who drowned in a swimming pool during a family holiday in, Spain in 2016 are making a renewed appeal to the local community and businesses to help them achieve their goal.

The Legacy is raising funds to build a dedicated centre where children can be taught skills and given the tools to allow them to be able to learn to swim from a very early age.

But although the charity has already achieved so much they are desperate for support to help them achieve the estimated £500,000 target needed to get the centre up and running.

After being pulled from the pool in their hotel in Girona, little Blossom was airlifted to hospital in Barcelona but doctors could not save her and her mother, Vicky had to make the heart-wenching decision to switch off her life support.

Blossom had been at swimming lessons for 18 months and was "very excited" about the holiday.

Following their loss, Vicky and Blossom's dad Kris, came up with the idea of the charity, named after their little girl, with the aim of ensuring other parents didn't suffer the same heartache.

The charity was officially launched at St Francis of Assisi RC Primary School in Blakehall, where Blossom had been a pupil.

They have already been promised land by the Roman Catholic Archdiocese on which to build the centre but it's thought they need to raise half a million pounds to achieve their goal.

Blossom Iris Kelly.

Latest fundraiser is a Motown Night on Saturday, November 16 at the Lancashire Manor Hotel in Skelmersdale.

Blossom's nanny, Sue Kelly, said: "We hold a fundraiser every year at the Lancashire Manor. This is the third one we have organised and it's always a fabulous night.

"There will be food, drinks on arrival, a casino, and Boogie Storm from Britain's Got Talent will be performing.

"However, we need raffle prizes for the auction and we also need companies to sponsor casino tables.

"The headteacher at Blossom's school, St Francis has been terrific and the archdiocese has already promised us a plot of land to build our centre.

"The aim is that the centre would be somewhere where children could learn life skills to swim.

Amazing

"The local pools, Nye Bevan and Ormskirk Park Pool are always full and the youngsters couldn't be afforded the time to properly learn the necessary skills.

" The community support we have had so far has been amazing with people holding fundraising events such as Morris Dancing troupes and Halloween parties but we need huge help to get our name out there.

"There are millions of pounds which charities can bid for and we hope West Lancs Council can help us with advice about how to go about accessing these funds.

"This facility is essential. We don't want anyone else to go through what we have experienced. Children's safety in water is so important and it would be open to people from surrounding districts to use as well."

Tickets for the Motown Night costs £40 per person or £350 for a table of 10. For more information visit the Blossom's Legacy page on Facebook.

New police task force launched

A 'DEDICATED' task force of police officers is due to start operating in West Lancashire from today (Wednesday, November 6), tacking the issues that "matter most to residents".

The task force is made up of a proactive team of four officers, with the responsibility for tackling local priorities including drug-dealing, antisocial behaviour and burglary, alongside disrupting organised crime group activity and targeting outstanding offenders.

There will be similar teams of four or five officers spread across nine areas in the county.

Specialist target teams are also being strengthened to tackle cross-border crime and criminality, focusing on burglary and robbery and there has been an uplift in detectives following public feedback to prioritise investigations around major crimes, child exploitation and domestic abuse.

A new drone team is also operational across the force, with two drones paid for by the proceeds of crime, and a team of four officers funded by the council tax precept. This new technology has been "invaluable" supporting policing operations including events, missing people and warrants.

The new neighbourhood tasking team is about reconnecting with the communities across Lancashire and getting back to proactive policing and dealing with community concerns.

Supintendent Karen Edwards, who oversees policing in West Lancashire, said: "The task force will be a welcome addition to policing in the area of West Lancashire and I hope it will provide some reassurance to our local communities. We will see them focusing on the issues that matter most to residents as well as those we have identified as the greatest risk, including anti social behaviour, knife crime, organised crime and drug dealing."

Chance to have a say on proposed new rules for control of dogs in public places

WEST Lancs Council is inviting comments from dog owners and other members of the public on proposed new rules for the control of dogs in a number of public places.

Under the proposals dogs will have to be kept on a lead at Ormskirk and Tarleton rugby clubs and Tarleton cricket club and will be excluded from the enclosed children's play area at Station Road, Hesketh Bank and the enclosed sports area at the Evermoor Hub, Digmoor, Skelmersdale.

Dogs are already excluded from a number of children's play areas under the council's Public Space Protection Order, and the authority says the restrictions have been successful in keeping these areas safe for children.

Heidi McDougall: "We want to hear the views of all sides on these matters."

The council says that the new places for restrictions are being considered following suggestions made by local people and if the new rules are agreed they will be covered by the order.

Full details of the proposals are on the council's website at www.westlancs.gov.uk/your-views, along with details of how to give your comments. The consultation runs until Friday, December 13.

Heidi McDougall, the council's corporate director of place and community, said: "Keeping children safe in play areas and sports facilities is very important but we also need to be able exercise their pets in a responsible manner.

"We want to hear the views of all sides on these matters and I would encourage people to give their comments so they can be taken into account when the council makes its decision."

Plan for football club to use Tower Hill Road Playing Field recommended for approval

Proposals could also see construction of new changing pavilion

Report by Henry James

PROPOSALS for West Lancashire Borough Council to enter into a licence agreement with Billinge and Up Holland Football Club for them to use land at Tower Hill Road Playing Field in Up Holland have been recommended for approval by officers.

The officers believe that approval in principle should be agreed so that a lease arrangement can be made with the club for the construction of a new changing pavilion on the site, subject to planning and other consents being obtained.

There is a community use agreement in the licence to allow and involve local community clubs and groups in the use and development of the facility.

Officers want the Corporate Director of Place and Community to be authorised to take all necessary steps to establish the agreements with Billinge and Up Holland FC, subject to all necessary consents and approvals being obtained from the club.

Tower Hill Road Playing Fields stopped being used as football pitches more than 10 years ago. After that they were used as training facilities and four years ago their use for sports activities ceased entirely. Since then they have been used as a public open space.

The council has been approached by a club, who are based in neighbouring Billinge, with a request to lease the area to be used initially, as a football pitch with an option to build changing rooms at the site. The land requested would be three hectares and there would be a small area for parking.

Tower Hill playing fields in Up Holland.

Billinge FC play in the Cheshire League First Division and have a first team, reserve team, under-21 team and an under -12s team. The club is looking for somewhere which would provide "quality facilities for them and the community."

The site would be used as a basic Step 7 facility (as defined by the Football Association), which would include one football pitch, changing rooms, and adequate car parking, with the hope that if successful in the future they could progress to Step 6, subject to the provision of additional playing and spectator facilities and various approvals.

Borough council officers wrote the following in the planning documents for the meeting: "Bringing this playing field facility back into use will help the borough to cater for future demand for pitches as shown in the Playing Pitch Strategy 2018, and would hopefully be supported financially through the Local Football Facilities Plan currently being developed by Lancashire FA.

"This is potentially a very beneficial scheme for the community of Up Holland, and for West Lancashire as a whole, bringing a currently unused playing field facility back into use.

"The benefit to the local community would be a crucial element in approving this proposal and the inclusion of a community use agreement within the lease/licence agreements would ensure these benefits.

"As an indicator of their intentions Billinge FC has agreed to change their name to Billinge and Upholland FC in anticipation of the move to Tower Hill Road."

The lease agreement would be for 25 years. It is expected that the rental would be similar to a comparable site at Richmond Park, Burscough which is £530 per year for pitch rental and £250 per year for changing room rental.

The borough council's cabinet were expected to make a decision on the proposals at their meeting last night (Tuesday).

Animal lovers urged to be on their guard after pet cat is poisoned

A WOMAN from Skelmersdale was left devastated after her pet cat had to be put down after it ate rat poison which she believes had been left by people in their gardens.

The resident of Old Skelmersdale, who only wishes to be known as Leanne, rushed her pedigree kitten to the vet, but unfortunately the animal could not be saved.

She contacted the Champion as she wanted to warn other people to be aware of what had happened.

She said: "I would like to report a concern within our local town to make local animal owners and lovers aware that we have some individuals, who think it is acceptable to lay down rat poison in their gardens.

"On Monday, October 28 I ended up rushing my pedigree kitten to the out-of-hours vet as he quickly deteriorated after it was confirmed he had been intoxicated by eating poison.

"The family's much-loved animal went through all that pain prior to being put to sleep, which was horrific for our young family to see.

"I feel other neighbours around the Old Skelmersdale area, near Clayton Street, need to be aware so their pets don't suffer as ours did.

The RSPCA has been contacted for comment.

The trees which were cut down at Beacon Park Golf course.

Leisure bosses say planting scheme will compensate for axing of golf course trees

SERCO Leisure has come under fire for cutting down three prominent trees on the first fairway at the Beacon Park Golf course in Up Holland - but say a "a compensatory planting scheme will offset the losses."

A Skelmersdale resident who contacted the Champion said: "I was very shocked to find three beautiful trees iconic to the scenery of the first hole cut down and lying in a puddle.

"As you can see from the photograph from earlier in the summer, these trees were standing majestically as a great asset to the Beacon Country Park."

Serco Leisure run the golf course as the management agents for West Lancashire Community Leisure.

Mark Snaylam for Serco Leisure responded: "In line with the planning permission granted for Beacon Park Golf course in regards to the land re-profiling, the felling of a small number of trees was unavoidable in order to allow for the appropriate shaping of the landscape.

"However in consultation with a professional arboriculturist we are implementing a compensatory planting scheme in the golf course to offset the losses."

Police officers issued with metal-detecting 'wands' in latest move to tackle rise in knife crime menace

POLICE officers in West Lancashire have been given metal-detecting 'knife wands' in a bid to tackle knife crime.

A total of 25 wands have been allocated to officers across Preston, Chorley, South Ribble and West Lancashire to search people thought to be carrying weapons in a bid to "keep the community safe and feeling safe."

The force has secured government funding, through Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw to help tackle the problem of increased knife crime incidents.

It's the first time neighbourhood and response officers have been equipped with the metal-detecting devices. Knife wands will also be distributed across the rest of the county.

Paul McLernon, Lancashire Police's Violence Reduction Sergeant for Preston, Chorley, South Ribble and West Lancashire, said: "The knife wands will give members of the public, as well as officers, added security, with the aim of taking more knives and other dangerous weapons off the streets. The wands are an effective tool for use alongside stop and search and potentially less intrusive for those subject to searches.

"The force is currently undertaking a mixture of education and enforcement activities to educate young people on the dangers and consequences of carrying and using knives."

One of the metal-detecting 'knife wands' issued to officers.

There has been a rise in knife crime in West Lancashire recently and the Champion has reported on incidents across the borough.

Police in Skelmersdale have had to repeatedly use stop and search Section 60 powers following knife-related attacks. Section 60 powers allow police to stop and search people and vehicles without suspicion but are only put in place when police believe violent incidents will take place or weapons will be used.

Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner, Clive Grunshaw said: "Lancashire Constabulary do an extremely important job in protecting our communities and carrying out robust enforcement, but it is ultimately through early intervention and prevention work that we can most effectively tackle knife crime and serious violence."

The event takes place at 2.30pm on Saturday, November 16 at the Maharishi Golden Dome in Woodley Park Road.

Dr Michael Antoniou is head of the Gene Expression and Therapy Group, King's College London. He has 35 years' experience of using genetic engineering and gene editing for medical research.

Countdown begins in battle to be borough's next MP

Report by Henry James

THE countdown has begun to the first December General Election in the UK since 1923 with four candidates hoping to win the support of voters in West Lancashire already named as the Champion went to press and others expected to throw their hats into the ring before polling day on December 12.

Labour's Rosie Cooper will be bidding to win the seat for a fifth time, while Jack Gilmore has been chosen to represent the Conservatives, Allan Bowness has been named as the Brexit Party's prospective candidate and Simon Thomson will be representating the Liberal Democrats.

The ongoing Brexit saga is expected to be a major source of debate in the run-up to the poll and Rosie Cooper has promised to respect the result of the EU Referendum in 2016, which saw constituents in West Lancs vote in favour of leaving by 55.3% to 44.7%.

Rosie Cooper.

However, she made no mention of the issue in her statement announcing her candidature. Instead she pledged to "continue to deal with thousands of residents and their families who are living with the cost of the Conservative government's failures and austerity."

Jack Gilmore.

Conservative candidate Jack Gilmore said he wants to deliver a successful Brexit, while also fighting for more support for local services; looking to protect the West Lancs Green Belt by restricting future development to that required to meet local housing need; and addressing mental health funding locally.

Allan Bowness.

Meanwhile, the Brexit Party's Alan Bowness told the Champion back in September about the importance of securing the UK's exit from the European Union.

He declared: "We voted leave and leave we must - because without delivering for the 17.4m who voted that way in the referendum what is the point of MPs?"

The Liberal Democats have said they would cancel Brexit if they came to power.

Simon Thomson.

Jack is shown with family, friends, teachers and members of the local community on the last day of his challenge.

Jack's month of 'run days' raises £2,000-plus in aid of Alder Hey Hospital

Report by Henry James

A BIG-hearted youngster from Skelmersdale who pledged to run 2km every day for a month - come rain or shine - to raise money for Alder Hey Children's Hospital, has smashed his original fundraising target.

Ten-year-old Jack Grady was prompted to 'do his bit' to raise money for the hospital after being moved by a television programme about the sick children being treated there.

Pledging to run 2km every day in October, whatever the weather, the Trinity CE/Methodist Primary School initially hoped to raise around £100 in sponsorship from family and friends.

But after being featured in the Champion the support flooded in and to date he has now collected more than £2,200!

And he managed to keep his pledge to run every day - despite some pretty dire weather and even though he went on a half-term holiday - and easily passed his 38-mile total for the month.

Jack's parents have been supportive of his efforts.

Dad Ian said: "We are so proud of Jack, he has smashed his original target of £100 and the fact that he's raised more than £2,000 in a month is just amazing.

"It shows what a 10-year-old can do - the whole community has been behind him.

"Even though he went on holiday in October, he did his 2kms at Hadrian's Wall and in the Lake District.

"And on one of the days he ran in school with his classes and he must have clocked up 10kms.

"Also, the weather has not been kind and he suffered an injury on the 30th in school but still managed to complete his 2kms for that day. His determination and dedication is unbelievable.

"We would like to thank everyone who have supported Jack by running with him, sponsoring him and offering kind words of encouragement. He couldn't have raised so much without the help of Trinity Primary School and Laura, the landlady at the Derby Arms in Old Skelmersdale.

"People were beeping their horns as a sign of encouragement when they saw him running."

Jack's parents ran with him on alternate days and he was also joined by school friends, teachers and even his 63-year-old gran on some runs.

His regular route took him from his home to the Greenhill, then around Trinity school and back home again.

And the Derby Arms threw a party for him on the last day of his fundraiser.

£50k boost for new village community centre project

Report by Kenny Parker

HESKETH with Becconsall Parish Council has committed £50,000 towards building a new community centre serving the village and surrounding area.

The parish council formally approved an application from Hesketh Bank Community Centre for the money, which has been raised through West Lancs Council's Community Infrastructure Levy (CIL), as part of a redevelopment plan to hopefully have the new facility up and running in June 2020.

The CIL allows the borough council to raise funds from the developers of new building projects in West Lancs. All monies collected as part of the levy must be then used to pay for infrastructure needed to support new development across the borough.

Chairman of the parish council, Paul Sergeant, said: "This £50,000 grant is a huge step towards making the community centre plans a reality along with the outstanding progress the trustees have made in fundraising beyond the community. This fantastic project will be a major asset for the community and will be one of the finest community centres in the county.

"In addition, the grant will not cost the council tax payers a penny, as it will be entirely funded by the Community Infrastructure Levy monies raised on new developments in Hesketh Bank."

Mike Ellis, who is leading the redevelopment project for Hesketh Bank Community Centre which is celebrating its 75th year, added: "We are thrilled to have secured support from the parish council. With the number of people living in Hesketh Bank growing, demands on the centre are increasing and our current premises are no longer viable. We want to provide a purpose-built, sustainable and attractive facility to house a wider range of health and well-being activities for residents and to become a vital hub for our community.

Parish councillor Ron Tyson (left) and Mike Ellis, representing Hesketh Bank Community Centre with the letter confirming the grant.

"We hope that this vote of confidence in our plans will also improve our chances of obtaining additional funding and move us closer to our target of having a new community centre by June 2020."

Meanwhile, parish councillor Diane Earles, treasurer for Hesketh Bank Community Centre, says they have received three quotes for the new community centre ranging between £400,000 and £600,000. With the £50,000 donated by the parish council added to money already raised and further grants of £100,000 it is hoped to receive from both West Lancs Council (from CIL funds) and the National Lottery, organisers hope to have accumulated around £300,000 towards the cost.

Options currently being considered by the trustees on how to raise the remaining money needed include selling part of the land the community centre is currently situated on, or selling it all and building at another location.

Report by Tom Martin

Crimestoppers wants the public to help take more guns off the streets by continuing to provide information about criminal activity.

INDEPENDENT charity Crimestoppers has launched a major anti-gun campaign after a spate of recent shootings in the North West, including Skelmersdale.

Officials of the charity say they have received more than 3,500 anonymous reports of information from members of the public across Merseyside and West Lancashire over the last six months, leading to a number of arrests.

And they are urging people to continue to report gun crime and ignore insults of 'grass', the derogatory term used to describe those who inform about criminal activity.

The latest Crimestoppers campaign is a direct response to a number of recent shootings in the area, including in Skelmersdale where three men were shot at a house on October 15.

The appeal will specifically focus on where firearms are stored and how they are transported.

Gary Murray, North West regional manager for Crimestoppers, said: "Keeping our communities, families and streets safe is our main priority. We all have a role to play in helping put a stop to shootings on our streets, especially if we know who's involved in bringing violence and details on how they operate.

"If you prefer not to talk directly to the authorities, then our charity is here for you. We need information on who is carrying out these shootings, where the weapons and bullets are stored, and the vehicles they use. We take all information seriously and your information could be vital.

"Those who carry out these attacks rely on the myth that you shouldn't 'grass', as it suits them to build up a wall of fear to try and avoid being caught. They have no respect for life or the damage they cause to families.

"By contacting Crimestoppers you can help break the control that these criminal gangs seek to have.

"I appeal to anyone who has information on shootings or firearms to contact us 100% anonymously and help save lives. The only one who will know that you have contacted us is yourself."

If you have any information about crime and prefer not to speak directly to the authorities you can contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111 or use their untraceable Anonymous Online Form at www.crimestoppers-uk.org.

Veterans issue a Poppy Appeal thank-you and a reminder...

MEMBERS of Skelmersdale Veterans' Association want to thank all the members of the public who have already supported this year's Poppy Appeal and to remind people they will be collecting at the Concourse shopping centre and Asda over the coming days.

Association chairman, Alan Lewis, said: "We would like to thank all the members of the public, plus all the young people who visited the veterans at both venues. People have been so supportive of appeal this year so a big thank you.

"We would also like to thank ASDA and the Concourse shopping centre for allowing us to collect there.

"And a special thank-you too to the young lady who bought us doughnuts!

"This time of the year gives us the chance to remember those who lost their lives serving in all conflicts, from the beginning of the First World War right up to the present day. We also remember all those who have served and their families."

The veterans have also had support from two young people, one whom was Mia Creswell Gary, a granddaughter of one of the group's members.

Alan Lewis added: "Mia, a pupil at Woodland Communuty Primary School in Birch Green, is a good ambassador for young people in the town. She gave up her half-term school holiday to support the Poppy Appeal and the Skelmersdale Veterans' Association organisation and The Royal British Legion appeal."

University staff set to strike over pay and working conditions

STAFF at Edge Hill University are to take part in eight days of strikes over pay and working conditions.

Along with staff from 59 other universities and colleges across the UK, members of the University and College Union (UCU) will take part in strike action between Monday, November 25 and Wednesday, December 4.

52% of the UCU members at Edge Hill, including teaching, research and library staff, took part in the ballot and 75% of those voted in favour of strikes.

As well as eight strike days from November 25, union members will also begin "action short of a strike" when they return to work. This involves working strictly to contract, not covering for absent colleagues and refusing to re-schedule lectures lost to strike action

UCU general secretary Jo Grady said: "Strike action is a last resort, but staff have made it quite clear that enough is enough and universities can be in no doubt about the strength of feeling. The first wave of strikes will hit institutions later this month unless universities start talking to us seriously about how they are going to deal with rising pension costs and declining pay and conditions."

Edge Hill and the Universities and Colleges Employers Association have been contacted for comment.

Dispersal zones set up following incidents of antisocial behaviour on 'Mischief Night'

Report by Henry James

YOUTHS caused damage across West Lancashire on so-called Mischief Night (Wednesday, October 30) with reports of car windows being smashed and a fire started in a pedestrian underpass.

Police had to set up dispersal zones in both Aughton and Skelmersdale following outbreaks of antisocial behaviour.

Dispersal zones are used when incidents result in damage to property and putting the community at risk of injury.

Meanwhile fire fighters were called out to tackle a blaze started in one of the underpasses in Tanhouse, Skelmersdale.

Police also reported as well that a car was badly damaged and a window smashed, while two youths were taken to a place of safety.

The dispersal zones were imposed in the Tanhouse and Digmoor areas on the evening of October 30 until the following morning.

A mounted police officer at the scene of the car which was turned on its side at Ormskirk railway station.

Overturned

Sergeant Darren Carr from Skelmersdale Police posted on social media: "These powers give officers the authority to order anyone deemed to be likely to engage in antisocial behaviour to leave the area immediately. Anyone that fails to abide by the direction or returns within the time limit can be arrested."

Ormskirk Police posted a picture on their social media page of a car, which had been turned on its side by Ormskirk railway station.

It's believed a group of youths were responsible and police said they had caught a train to Town Green, Aughton where they damaged more vehicles.

As a result of this incident a dispersal zone was enforced in the Aughton area too.

Police also used mounted patrols in the borough.

A spokesman for Ormskirk and Burscough Police said: "Enquiries to trace the youths responsible for the damage are ongoing and we have deployed extra staff to the area."

First 'Health Sexual Violence Liaison Officer' appointed by hospital trust

Role created with funding from county police commissioner

Report by Henry James

SOUTHPORT and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust has announced the appointment of its first sexual violence liaison officer.

The new role has been created to offer support to victims and survivors of sexual abuse and comes about after funding was obtained by the trust from the office of the Lancashire Police and Crime Commissioner.

And the trust revealed that Faye Speed will take up the post of 'Health Sexual Violence Liaison Officer.' Faye's role will include:

- Empowering healthcare staff in dealing with victims of sexual abuse (recent and historic).
- Creating a clear referral pathway for staff and victims identified in the hospital setting.
- Identifying victims, particularly those in mental health crisis, and enable them to access the correct support to prevent repeat admissions.
- Preventing repeat victimisation by offering victims a chance to access support.
- Improving integration between community services and healthcare pathways.

Faye Speed

The hospital trust's acting chief executive, Therese Patten, said: "Sexual abuse is a hidden issue that can happen to anyone. This new role will offer practical help, advice and information for anyone who has experienced rape, sexual abuse, historic abuse or sexual harassment at any time in their life.

"Thank-you to the Lancashire Police and Crime Commissioner for funding this crucial role."

Commissioner, Clive Grunshaw added: "I am delighted to see this post established within the trust. Hospitals are a place of safety for many people, so it is no surprise that survivors of sexual violence find the courage to disclose what has happened to them while they are there.

'Priority'

"Placing specialist services in health settings is a great step forward and gives us the opportunity to offer anyone affected the right support at the earliest opportunity.

"This type of support has already been established in other areas of Lancashire and it is fantastic to see it expand further.

"Supporting victims is a key priority for me and it is through projects like this that we can make a real difference to people and ensure that they can access the help they need and deserve to come to terms with what has happened."

Edge Hill women's rugby league star Rebecca selected for historic tour

EDGE Hill University student Rebecca Greenfield has been selected as a member of a 23-strong England squad for the Women's Rugby League historic tour of Papua New Guinea.

Women's rugby is experiencing unprecedented growth and the BSc (Hons) Sport and Exercise Psychology student is among those flying the flag for the sport, being described by England Rugby League as "an outstanding young player, demonstrating "growth, integrity, pride, commitment and resilience".

Rebecca said: "I am privileged to be selected to board that plane and hopefully pull on that England shirt and represent my country over in Papua New Guinea. It will be an amazing experience, being able to explore the different cultures and perform at the highest level."

The 21-year-old is also set to receive a Sports Scholarship Award next month from Edge Hill in recognition of her sporting achievements, which include being part of the Wigan Warriors team that won the 2018 Women's Super League in its debut season in the competition.

Rebecca proudly displays her England cap and jersey.

She was also selected for England Rugby League's National Performance Programme and went on to represent England in a test match against France.

A keen ambassador for females playing rugby, Rebecca says she's proud to see a surge in women taking up the sport and she has been supporting the new Women in Rugby brand identity and landmark global campaign 'Try and Stop Us', aimed at driving increased participation and engagement among fans, audiences, players and investors in the women's game.

She said: "The increase in the publicity and media around Women's Rugby League has helped the growth of the game massively, with televised games, better experiences and opportunities

'Proud'

"The enjoyment that comes with participating in the game is something I thrive on and I'm proud to see the increasing numbers of girls that are trying out the sport, helping to meet the aim for the 2021 World Cup - for 21,000 women and girls to play rugby league by 2021."

The England team are set to face Papa New Guinea in Goroka on Saturday, November 9, followed by a second test in the capital Port Moresby on Saturday, November 16, as a precursor to the Great Britain Rugby League Lions' final game also against PNG.

Police chief's fund to tackle reoffending open for applications

Latest round of grants will see the total provided for projects to steer offenders away from crime top £500k

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw's dedicated fund aimed at tackling reoffending is once again open for applications.

A total of £80k is available for charities, organisations and partners to bid for projects that work with offenders in their areas and help integrate them back into the community.

That will take the total provided by the fund to projects aimed ensuring offenders don't fall back into crime, to more than £500,000.

Applications for grants of up to £20k will be reviewed by representatives from the four local 'Reducing Reoffending Boards' covering the north, south, east and west of the county, ensuring that projects address local concerns and tackle the issues that most matter to people.

Members of the local boards include Lancashire Constabulary, local authorities and the regional Community Rehabilitation Company (CRC).

Clive Grunshaw says fund provides "great value" and lessens pressures on police and other emergency services.

The Reducing Reoffending Fund is a key part of the commissioner's strategy to reduce crime and reoffending, one of the priorities in his Police and Crime Plan.

Other work includes supporting the local Reducing Reoffending Boards through the appointment of an independent chair to ensure consistent approaches, all working towards his priorities.

Clive Grunshaw said: "Since first opening my Reducing Reoffending Fund over 18 months ago, I have been really impressed with the high quality of applications and the project which have been funded and delivered in that time.

"From hearing personal stories about how ex-offenders are turning their lives around, through to seeing real evidence that projects we support do have a measurable, positive impact for our communities up and down the whole of Lancashire, I know the benefit that investing this money brings.

"It also provides great value. By reducing reoffending we lessen the pressures on police officers and other emergency services and the costs when offenders go through the criminal justice system.

"It is great to once again be able to open my fund for applications, strengthening the organisations who tackle reoffending, taking pressure off our stretched public services and making our streets safer."

Sarah 'braves the shave' in aid of cancer charity that supported mum

STUDENT Sarah Perry proved she's a real sport by 'braving the shave' in aid of a cancer charity.

The 22-year-old, who is studying PE and school sports at Edge Hill University, shed her beloved locks to raise money for Macmillan Cancer Support which has helped her mum during her treatment for breast cancer.

She went under the clippers at the Liquid Bar in St Helens Road, Ormskirk where she also works part-time, raising a fantastic £1,500 for the charity. And mum Michelle travelled from her native Newcastle to lend moral support on the day.

Sarah said: "I wanted to do something to say thanks for the way they helped my mum but also because a lot of people suffer from cancer and the Macmillan nurses and the charity are incredible."

Let's call on council to think again about decision on market stalls

CAN I urge anyone who holds Ormskirk market dear to join me in imploring West Lancs Borough Council to think again about its decision to pull out of providing and erecting the stalls for Ormskirk market's traders?

Ormskirk market has stood since 1286 and over the last century the former urban district council and the present borough council have played a vital role as custodians of one of the few remaining jewels in Ormskirk's crown. This has consistently ensured that standards are kept and safety guaranteed - making Ormskirk market the envy of other towns and cities, many of whose residents come to Ormskirk market rather then their own!

Part of what makes Ormskirk market so special is the pleasing uniformity of the basic, council-provided stalls, all the same height and colour interspersed with the odd gazebo belonging to traders whose business model demands it. If WLBC pulls out of this provision this delightful market day streetscape will be replaced by a dog's dinner of ramshackle stalls - order will be replaced with chaos. How long will it be before it descends into a Third World bazaar with some traders spreading their wares on the ground and others with such poorly-erected slipshod stalls that they will fly away and hit pedestrians in strong winds?

Our original vintage market stalls have seen generations of council workmen, stallholders and shoppers come and go and are an irreplaceable and priceless part of Ormskirk's heritage. Selling them off would be cultural vandalism - like Blackpool selling off its deckchairs. They might have been daft enough to do it but are we daft enough to follow them? This decision reminds me of the 1960s demolition of the magnificent King's Arms pub on Moor Street - a glorious architectural gem that was replaced with a brick wall with windows in that we call Boots. Once it was gone it was gone, everyone knew it was a mistake but it was too late to do anything about it.

Now more than ever is the time to hang on to our heritage – and make it pay (just like the entrepreneur who bought Blackpool's deckchairs has done!) I don't know if you've noticed but the country is going vintage mad and we already have our own wonderful 'ASAP Vintage' shop on Church Street.

Vintage is big business with towns up and down the land putting themselves on the vintage map with regular (often wartime) themed weekends with stalls, dancing, vintage vehicles, flypasts etc - what with our wonderful civic hall and genuine vintage market stalls we have the infrastructure to beat the best of them - it could be something to rival Motorfest! As someone who travels up and down the country attending these events I have all the contacts to help make this happen in Ormskirk - free of charge!

Let Ormskirk market go forward into the future holding on to what makes it special - not getting rid of it. If it ain't broke don't fix it.

If these stalls go they will be gone forever – please think again, thank you.

Graham Gilbert, Ormskirk.

Everybody should report hazardous potholes as soon as possible - and there's even a free app to do it!

LIKE John Brown (Letters, October 30) I noticed the dangerous pothole on Winifred Lane the day it appeared - Friday, October 19.

I notified Lancashire County Council the same day and was pleased to see a cone in place a short time later.

Unfortunately by the morning of Saturday, October 20 the cone had been completely destroyed by a passing car.

I notified the council again and a (larger) cone duly appeared. Two days later I was very pleased to see a LCC vehicle and two workmen repairing the defect in a very thorough manner.

So, the definitive repair could have been a little quicker but the council certainly responded to a message on their website.

I do, however, share John Brown's concern re: the large number of dangerous potholes on our roads - a hazard to cars and motorcycles but a potential death trap to cyclists. I would therefore urge everyone to report such local defects to Lancashire County Council as soon as possible.

Can I also draw the attention of the public to an excellent app, freely downloadable to all mobile phones, 'Fill that hole.'

This app can be used to report a pothole anywhere in the country, together with a description and photograph. The report is immediately automatically sent to the relevant authority.

Geraldine Boocock, Aughton.

Volunteers needed to help with collections to support food banks

NO one should need a food bank at any time of year - but we know during the lead-up to Christmas our network of food banks see even more people needing help.

Food banks will be doing all they can to provide vital emergency support so people don't face hunger this Christmas. But to make sure there are enough donations, we need your support.

Having your support in this year's Tesco Food Collection will make a real difference - the more people who volunteer, the more food will be collected from generous shoppers, and the better prepared food banks will be to help local people.

From Thursday, November 21 until Saturday, November 23, two leading charities, the Trussell Trust and FareShare, will be collecting food in Tesco stores across the UK.

They are looking for local volunteers to encourage shoppers to donate, so that as much food as possible can be collected.

During the collection customers are encouraged to donate long-life food to help food banks and community groups support people in need at Christmas.

Tesco will top up customer donations by 20% to further support the two charities in their work.

To make this year's collection a success volunteers are needed to hand out shopping lists to customers, so they can see the food items most needed by food banks and community groups in their area, and to encourage people to donate.

People interested in volunteering can find out more and sign up at www.fareshare/tescofoodcollection.

Emma Revie,
The Trussell Trust.

Too many barges 'spoil view' along canal towpath

ONE recent fine morning, I decided to take a stroll along the towpath at Burscough Bridge.

After accessing the towpath through an opening at the car park, I was very dismayed to see a very long line of barges moored up to my left and right.

I understand that what constitutes a 'view' is personal to the viewer. Some take pleasure in seeing lots of barges moored up and I know that barge people keep their barges in good condition and are nice to see - or most do.

But I think it would be nice to see a barge-free stretch of the canal so that I could enjoy watching the antics of the ducks, moorhens, and jumping fish early morning.

Instead, nowadays, I see oily stretches and rubbish gathered round the barges. Last year, I witnessed a person actually throw food waste into the water from a barge.

I may be getting old and perhaps a little set in my ways and, hanker for simpler times, I know, but why are they all moored up at the bridge when there's a marina close by? I suppose it's lack of spaces and the cost.

And are people allowed to live in barges? Maybe? I'm not sure about the regulations. I had a friend years ago who did use his barge as a home but he had to move it to Liverpool.

Ah well, as they say, what can you do? I'm just musing that so many barges do 'spoil the view' in my opinion. It's still peaceful to walk along the canal but I wish it could be better.

Kevin Orrell, by email.

Waterways charity urges public to help clear area's canals of plastic waste menace

Report by Kenny Parker

THE charity which looks after the country's inland waterways is calling on public volunteers to help clean its canals of plastic waste.

The Canal & River Trust, which oversees some 400 miles of canals in the North West alone, including the Leeds-Liverpool Canal and the Rufford branch in West Lancs, says that if every person who visited their local canal picked up a piece of litter and took it away with them the waterways could be plastic-free in a year.

And this autumn the trust is urging people to take on the 'Plastics Challenge' and help to make a difference to the health of the waterways.

The challenge simply involves picking up just one piece of plastic, taking a photo with it and sharing it onFacebook, Twitter or Instagram with the hashtag#PlasticsChallenge.
Then, just take it home with you and either bin it or recycle it correctly.

Daniel Greenhalgh, regional director at the Canals & River Trust, said: "Autumn is one of the loveliest times to visit the canals as the turning leaves transform them into glorious corridors of orange, brown, red and gold.

Discarded

"But sometimes the rustle of fallen leaves is actually the sound of a discarded crisp packet or a piece of plastic.

"We want people in Lancashire to join us in taking action on plastic pollution.

" Autumn is a great time to get involved – come along for a walk and, if you find any litter, pick it up and take it home to recycle.

"Or get creative and find a picturesque backdrop to showcase your action and share the results with us!

"Being by the water makes people healthier and happier so, whatever you choose to do, a trip to Lancashire's waterways is the perfect way to enjoy an autumnal afternoon."

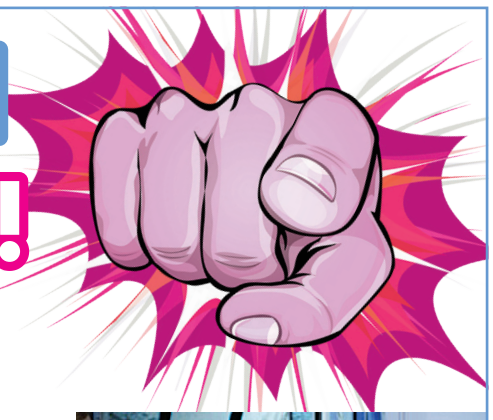
GIRLGUIDING IN SEFTON NEEDS YOU!



We are looking for adults over the age of 18 to run
RAINBOWS (AGE 5-7), BROWNIES (AGE 7-10)
GUIDES (AGE 10-14) AND RANGERS (14-18).
If you live in the Girlguiding Sefton area (which includes parts of West Lancashire) and are interested in volunteering with young people, then you could be just right for us.

We have units in West Lancashire: Parbold, Newburgh, Burscough, Rufford, Appley Bridge, Upholland, Wrightington, Tarleton, Hesketh Bank, Ormskirk, Aughton & Skelmersdale and in Sefton: Bootle, Litherland, Maghull, Lydiate, Crosby, Formby & Southport

We need people who are willing to give up 1-2 hours per week to help girls reach their full potential in Girlguiding. You would be involved with running unit meeting activities, helping out on trips and working towards badges.

We have a particular need for people who are willing to take on the running of a unit – we have units in our area that are at risk of closure if new leaders cannot be found. We also have girls on waiting lists eager to join us but with no units for them to attend.

You would be supported by your local district team to complete the leadership qualification; a great opportunity to gain skills and have fun. We are also looking for volunteers who can't commit to weekly meetings to help us with unit administration, finances, planning events and training.

All leaders will need to supply 2 references and undertake a DBS check (paid for by Girlguiding).

We look forward to hearing from you!
For more information please contact
Helen at admin@girlguidingsefton.org.uk or on 07570 050 729
who will put you in touch with a local volunteer to discuss your interest in girlguiding.

Wonderful coincidences really made my 'Official Birthday Cruise'

IS it a record? Well, actually not, but certainly the fact that I have arrived home on schedule from my holiday on the Norfolk Broads is something to celebrate.

This was my 'Official Birthday Cruise' which I mentioned a few weeks ago. I decided that my annual cruise to celebrate my real birthday later this month was becoming rather too much of a bad thing.

It was OK when my brother George was alive, but my lovely old wooden cruiser can be eight tons of stubbornness when faced with the onset of winter weather, including the dreaded ice that mid to late November can bring. So my 'Official Birthday' a month earlier seemed a good idea.

I still experienced wind, heavy rain and fog (just once) - but no ice nor frost even. And there were periods of really nice sunshine too.

An added bonus was that this time there were still a fair few hire cruisers around to provide a bit of company but without moorings becoming more like Piccadilly in the rush hour which they can in high summer.

There was always someone to chat to and I met a fair few old friends and acquaintances and made one or two new ones into the bargain. But two coincidences really stand out.

One afternoon I decided because wet and windy weather was forecast for the night to go to a secluded and well-protected mooring called Womack Water Island, big enough to accommodate but two largish cruisers. A large hire cruiser was already present and I tied up just ahead of it.

Later I had just finished a dinner of boneless pork chop and all the trimmings followed by an excellent strawberry trifle when there was a knock at my door. A chap there from the other cruiser greeted me and explained that he had just phoned his sister and told her that a lovely old wooden cruiser called Manxman had arrived to share his berth.

Amazingly she said she had talked to me while on the Broads for her summer holiday - and at the exact same secluded mooring we were at now!

Lovely gesture

Apparently I had explained why Manxman had been so named and shown her my book with photos of the 'real' Isle of Man Steam Packet ferry of the same name.

We enjoyed a brief chat and he then invited me to join him and his wife for spaghetti bolognese - a favourite of mine - which was almost ready. It was a lovely gesture and I genuinely regretted the pork chop.

Less dramatic, but still a wonderful coincidence, occurred a few days later when I pulled onto the quay of a boatyard in Horning village to fill Manxman's diesel tank.

A mechanic there walked over and told me that many years ago he had worked for Herbert Woods boatyard when Manxman was a star member of their hire fleet (named Golden Light 6).

He said he had worked on the section where the Golden Lights were based and said they were the last of the really higher quality wooden hire cruisers built there.

He also congratulated me on the appearance of Manxman which really made my day, especially since I (and my brother) have actually owned the boat for longer than Herbert Woods did!

And the old girl did me proud, working faultlessly (well, nearly) for my 16-day break. The only problem occurred just three days into the cruise when the Webasto heating system suddenly decided to go on holiday too. That would have been a disaster except that when George and I had the bombast installed, we wisely (as it turned out) retained the rather inefficient gas catalyst as well. Since it was the weekend I had to manage with that, meaning to try to get the Webasto fixed on the Monday.

But low and behold, come Monday morning the Webasto came back to life and worked perfectly for the rest of the cruise. I am no expert but I suspect a diesel blockage or an air lock.

Still, all's well that ends well - and my 'Official Birthday Cruise' certainly did that!

People affected by age-related hearing loss to benefit from innovative services

Report by Henry James

PEOPLE in Lancashire and South Cumbria suffering from age-related hearing loss are set to benefit from a new service.

As a result of a successful partnership between the clinical commissioning groups (CCGs) in the two areas, innovative NHS-funded hearing services for age-related hearing are to be introduced loss across Lancashire and South Cumbria.

The successful bidders - Specsavers, Scrivens, Outside Clinic, Beacon Medical Services and Blackpool Teaching Hospital NHS Trust - are experienced hearing aid service providers who offer a range of related services.

The Outside Clinic will provide domiciliary (home-based) services only across West Lancashire, Blackburn with Darwen, Blackpool, Chorley and South Ribble, East Lancashire, Fylde and Wyre and Greater Preston CCG areas.

Specsavers and Scrivens will both provide services across the whole of Lancashire & South Cumbria CCG areas.

Dr Santhosh Davis.

Dr Santhosh Davis, GP and clinical lead for the hearing services development, said: "Age-related hearing loss is very common and can have really negative effects for those who suffer from it. We know from our engagement with people with age-related hearing loss, that many become self-conscious about their hearing loss.

"As a result, they don't socialise, become isolated and that in turn leads to loneliness and depression. It is vitally important for people to have their hearing tested on the NHS, and then if needed, to use NHS hearing aids which this service will provide.

"Our vision for people with age-related hearing problems is for them to receive high-quality, efficient services delivered closer to home with short waiting times, delivering patient focussed outcomes in a response to the needs of the individual. Including their families and carers in the community in which they live in.

Consistent

"This new NHS service will really make a difference to the lives of many people. Because we have involved people who have age-related hearing loss, we were able to ensure that their experiences and views have been used to help design the services.

"Working in true partnership with patients will ensure that people experience improved services, higher quality patient care and a consistent level of service across the Lancashire and South Cumbria area."

West Lancashire patients requring further information can contact NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group by email at wlccg.info@nhs.net or by calling 01695 588 000.

Edge Hill Short Story Prize winner named

FORMER Man Booker shortlisted author David Szalay has been named as this year's winner of the prestigious Edge Hill Short Story Prize and £10,000 for his collection entitled Turbulence at a special ceremony in London.

Founded in 2006 by Ailsa Cox, the world's first professor of short fiction, the Edge Hill prize remains the only UK-based award for a single-authored collection of short stories.

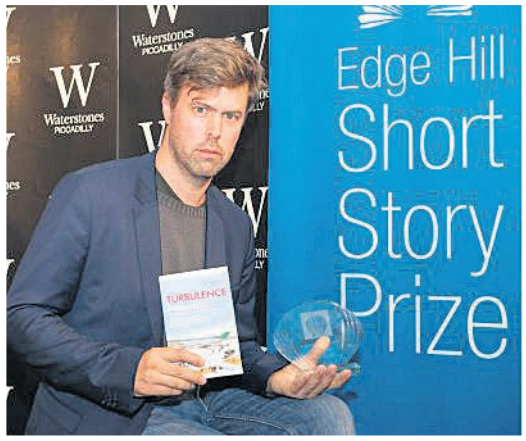
David Szalay, who was nominated for the Man Booker in 2016 with his novel All That Man Is, also received £1,000 for winning the Reader's Choice Award, chosen by a group of Edge Hill University students and alumni.

He said: "It feels fantastic to win the Edge Hill Short Story Prize and I'm just as happy to win the Reader's Choice category voted for by students. It's really special to win an award which is judged by aspiring writers themselves."

Turbulence follows the lives of 12 individuals on the move around the globe. They are each in turmoil and each life in some way touches the next.

The judging panel, including author and 2018 prize winner Tessa Hadley; co-founder of Galley Beggar Press, Sam Jordison; and author and playwright, Elizabeth Baines, commended David's ability to inspire empathy in the reader.

Also announced on the night was the winner of the Masters Prize, awarded to a student on the Ormskirk university's Masters in Creative Writing course. 29-year-old Tamsin James, from Chorley received the £500 prize in recognition of her as a "rising talent in the literary world."



Winner of this year's Edge Hill Short Story Prize and £10,000, David Szalay.

Dr Don Palmer and practice members at Ormskirk Chiropractic present the cheque to and Friends of St Joseph's to mark the centre's 10th anniversary.

Chiropractic centre celebrates anniversary with special fundraiser in aid of care home

STAFF at a chiropractic centre have raised £512 for a care home for adults with learning disabilities.

Centre owner, Don Palmer, celebrated the 10th anniversary of Ormskirk Chiropractic situated in Swan Alley, off Burscough Street, with a fundraiser for St Joseph's Residential Care Home in Formby which cares for 60 people and also offers short-term respite care.

In July, the Friends of St Joseph's unveiled their new £40,000 minibus following a three-year campaign which included summer fetes, quizzes, raffles and bingo events.

Money raised by the Ormskirk centre, meanwhile, will help towards their latest project for a playground for disabled adults including a wheelchair-accessible roundabout. Initial estimates suggest this could cost upwards of £20,000.

Chiropractic assistant Eileen Knight, whose brother Joe Miller lived at the home for two years before he passed away aged 50 in September 2018, was delighted by the gesture.

She said: "The Friends of St Joseph's were unbelievably caring during Joe's stay so Don suggested that we held the 10-year anniversary to raise funds for the Friends, which was a wonderful gesture.

"We managed to raise £512 which I tnink is a fantastic amount."

A NEW PERSPECTIVE IN RETIREMENT LIVING: THE SAILINGS IN SOUTHPORT

Southport's brand new retirement development is now open and welcoming new Homeowners. The Sailings, on Alexandra Road, features a range of 55 spacious one, two and three-bedroom apartments by award winning developer, Adlington Retirement Living.

With all the time in the world, a lively social calendar, the company of friendly people and the reassurance of support when you need it, you can truly live life your way, every day, at The Sailings.

CONTEMPORARY ACCOMMODATION

There are plenty of thoughtful touches and services available to make life a little bit easier too. The apartments have been designed with later life in mind and every detail, from the height of the door handles to the layout of the bathroom has been considered to make everyday life safer, simpler and more comfortable for homeowners.

Each of the private apartments will include generous living areas and contemporary fitted kitchens with integrated appliances. Many have stylish en-suite shower rooms and separate bathrooms, and for that all-important outside space, most apartments feature a walk on balcony or patio area, overlooking the beautifully landscaped gardens.

A COMMUNITY ON YOUR DOORSTEP

This new, high-end, development offers the best of both worlds. Homeowners can enjoy the privacy of their own peaceful and spacious apartment, spend time in the leafy gardens (which are maintained by an expert team of gardeners), relax in the hair salon, therapy room or lounge and then invite their friends over to enjoy the table service restaurant, without having to think about cooking or washing up.

PEACE OF MIND

Adlington's real point of difference is being able to offer round the clock, 24-hour on-site support, and tailored care should it ever be needed, in the future. By offering optional and flexible care, homeowners and their families have peace of mind, which is cited as one of the key reasons why so many people choose to invest in an Adlington apartment.

Security is of paramount importance and a sophisticated emergency call system operates in each apartment and throughout all the communal areas and gardens, as well as a security video entry so you only allow access to people you know and trust.

MOVING MADE EASY

Adlington go the extra mile to ensure the journey to retirement living goes as smoothly as possible, by offering an optional decluttering service, and supportive sales team on hand every step of the way.

They even throw-in a unique, complimentary 8-hour Handyman service to help you achieve the best look for your new apartment.

AWARD-WINNING EXPERTISE

Adlington picked up the much-coveted What House? Gold Award for Best Retirement Development in 2017 for their Otley development in West Yorkshire. Commissioner gets an insight into work of county's Major Investigations Teams

LANCASHIRE'S Police and Crime Commissioner, Clive Grunshaw has been given an insight into how major investigations police teams across the county work to remove criminals from the streets and make Lancashire a safer place to live and work.

From responding to major crimes, such as murder and attempted murder, through to proactive targeting of organised criminal gangs and stopping major incidents before they occur, the teams operate from hubs in each policing division, covering the whole of Lancashire.

After visiting one of the county's Major Investigations Teams, Mr Grunshaw said: "The really important work that is carried out in these investigation hubs often goes unseen by the public and it is absolutely crucial that we recognise the vital impact they have in keeping people safe and taking criminals off our streets.

"The public have told me, through surveys and meetings, that they see tackling major crimes as one of, if not the most important, priority for our officers who work round the clock to protect Lancashire and the people who live, work in and visit the county.

Detective Superintendent Andy Cribbin, Head of Major Crime, briefing Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw on his visit to a Major Investigations Team.

"These teams are integral to this work, understanding how best to tackle often challenging investigations and incidents."

Detective Superintendent Andy Cribbin, Head of Major Crime at Lancashire Constabulary, said: "We are grateful that Mr Grunshaw has taken the time to come and see the vital work that the officers and staff in our investigation teams do to keep the people of Lancashire safe and to investigate major crime.

"We are seeing significant levels of major and complex investigations and I'd like to pay credit to the teams for the unswerving dedication, professionalism and hard work. I'm hugely proud of what they do."

TV presenter Dr Ranj Singh who was a guest at the launch of West Lancashire College's new School of Medicine.

Celebrity duo open college's new School of Medicine

TV celebrity Dr Ranj Singh and maths 'guru' Rob Eastway were guest speakers at the launch of The School of Medicine at West Lancashire College.

A regular on the small screen in programmes including CBeebies' Get Well Soon, ITV's This Morning, and Save Money: Good Health, Dr Ranj Singh specialises in paediatric emergency medicine.

The doctor, who also featured in the BBC's Strictly Come Dancing, spoke about his career at the college's Hope Theatre.

Meanwhile, author and maths guru Rob Eastway also gave an interactive talk on 'the mathematics of everyday life'.

The college says the School of Medicine will offer "much more than" standard A Levels and gives those wishing to progress to medical school as an undergraduate a "distinct competitive edge".

As part of this programme students will undertake work experience in a variety of roles within the medical industry with placements within the NHS, with Virgin Care and with West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group.

Race ace Ben clocks up £500 donation for diabetes charity

A RACING driver aiming to raise awareness of diabetes has made a sizeable donation to a national charity from funds raised partly at this year's Ormskirk MotorFest.

British GT4 Championship racer, Ben Wallace from Southport donated £500 to Diabetes UK, to support people affected by the condition.

And 19-year-old Ben, who was diagnosed with type 1 diabetes when he was just one, hopes he can help other people living with the condition through his support of the national charity.

He said: "I think it's important to show that diabetes doesn't have to stop you doing anything you want to in life- it certainly hasn't stopped me pursuing my dreams.

"I hope that by raising funds for Diabetes UK and awareness of the condition, I can help other people living with diabetes.

"Thank you also to Engine Carbon Clean North West for kindly letting us use their stand at the Ormskirk MotorFest and helping with our fundraising effort."

Clare Howarth, of Diabetes UK, commented: "We are incredibly grateful to Ben for all his support and for raising awareness of diabetes.

" His hard work and determination as a racing driver show that diabetes doesn't have to stop you achieving your dreams. The money Ben has raised will help our work to create a world where diabetes can do no harm."

County council stages information event for potential foster carers

LANCASHIRE County Council are staging another of their information evenings for people considering becoming foster carers.

Part of the authority's ongoing drive to recruit more people interested in discovering the rewards of sharing their lives with children who need a home, the latest event will be held from 6 to 7.30pm on Wednesday, November 20 at County Hall, Preston.

Anyone thinking about becoming a foster carer is welcome to attend.

Members of the county council's fostering team, as well as social workers and current foster carers, will be available to answer questions, talk people through the process and offer advice. There is no need to book - you can just turn up - but people are asked to arrive early.

The county council is looking for more foster carers.

Meanwhile, a number of 'drop-in' sessions and other events are being staged during November at various venues right across the county.

The county council has increased the allowances payable to new foster carers, so now they can expect to receive between £241 and £300 per week for each child they care for.

County Councillor Phillippa Williamson, cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "With around 20 Lancashire children needing homes each week, we need to recruit more foster carers."

For more details about events or if you are unable to attend but are interested in becoming a foster carer, call the fostering recruitment team on 0300 123 6723 or visit www.lancashire.gov.uk/fostering.

Libraries taking part in Great North West Read

THROUGHOUT November, libraries in Lancashire are taking part in the Great North West Read with the aim of bringing adult book-lovers together, encouraging group discussion and sharing a love of reading.

The book that has been chosen to be read this year is The Library of Lost and Found by Phaedra Patrick. This is about volunteer librarian, Martha Storm, who finds a mysterious book of fairy tales with a surprising dedication that stirs up family secrets and a personal emotional journey.

County Councillor Peter Buckley, Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for community and cultural services, said: "This is great opportunity to bring readers in Lancashire together as a community to spark conversations about books and to celebrate their shared love of reading.

"We want as many adult readers across the county as possible to take part."

Anyone wanting to take part needs to reserve a copy in the library catalogue by visiting https://capitadiscovery.co.uk/lancashire/home.

For information about all the events and activities available in libraries for the Great North West Read 2019 visit https://www.lancashire.gov.uk/events/.

Breathe Easy Group meeting plays host to two guest speakers

MEMBERS of the West Lancashire and Southport Breathe Easy Group played hosts to two guest speakers at their latest monthly meeting.

First up was Steve Rowe, advanced respiratory nurse practitioner at Ainsdale Health and Wellbeing Centre and Litherland Town Hall Health Centre.

He spoke about the respiratory provision offered in Sefton and the many new inhalers which have come onto the market.

Steve went on to explain that the main cause of COPD (chronic obstructive pulmonary disease) is smoking, warning that one in four smokers or ex-smokers will develop this progressive and incurable disease.

And he explained what pulmonary fibrosis is and how another disease, bronchiecstasis, affects the lungs.

On a more positive note he also spoke in depth about how people can keep as well as possible, and manage exacerbations.

The second speaker was Ann Oliver, of Age UK Lancashire who made the long journey from her base in Lancaster to address the group.

Ann's talk covered a wide range of topics including focusing on preparing for winter - an important reminder for those with respiratory disease; getting on the Priority Services Registry for water, gas and electricity services; and will writing and powers of attorney issues.

She also provided a number of booklets and leaflets for members, and encouraged them to take note of activities at the Moorgate Wellbeing Centre and the fact that the room can be hired for functions.

Ann mentioned the Hospital Aftercare service which provides up to six weeks support for anyone returning home from hospital with little or no support. Explaining that while it does not replace the re-ablement service (dressing, bathing etc) or medical care, Age Uk Lancs can ensure that the home is safe, clean and warm and that people have food in, as well as collecting pensions and prescriptions, checking fire alarms and making benefits checks.

Guest speakers Steve Rowe and Ann Oliver at the Breathe Easy Group meeting.

She said Age UK Lancs have staff based at Ormskirk, Southport and Preston hospitals, but not Wigan and people could 'fall through the gap' unless they are aware of the service and ask for it.

Next meeting of the group will be the AGM on Monday, November 18, starting at 11am for their usual sing-song with the professional duo from the Power of Music.

Speaker will be Dr. S. Youzguin, consultant respiratory specialist from Southport Hospital and new members are always made welcome.

This will be held at the Girl Guide HQ, Green Lane, Ormskirk. Doors open at 10.30am and the meeting should finish around 12.30 to 12.45pm. Light refreshments are provided.

Animal sanctuary launches fresh appeal for sponsors

WOODLANDS Animal Sanctuary has made a fresh appeal for volunteers and help with fundraising.

The Holmeswood charity is offering the chance for people to sponsor one of the animals under its care from £3 per month.

Sponsors will receive regular updates and photos about the animal. Alternatively, supporters can set up a monthly direct debit for any amount which will provide the sanctuary with a reliable monthly income.

Woodlands says this helps them with their financial planning.

The charity is also asking supporters to consider using 'Everyclick's' 'Give As You Live' shopping links where you raise money for the charity of your choice - at no cost to you.

You can register to raise money for Woodlands by going to www.everyclick.com/

Woodlands supporters can also get behind 'Terracycle' which awards credits for items it receives which are then converted into donations to Woodlands.

Items accepted are all plastic toiletry packaging; bread bags, crisp and nut bags, toothpaste tubes and boxes, pet food packaging, and biscuit wrappers.

Animals that Woodlands is looking for sponsorship for.

The items should be cleaned and dried and deposited in the Terracycle wheelie bin at 44 Tower Hlll, Ormskirk.

A spokesperson for Woodlands said: "It really is true that every little helps, and so if you would like to become involved in one or more of the above schemes, Woodlands will feel the benefit."

Sports car club celebrates 40th anniversary

MEMBERS of the West Lancashire MG Owners Club celebrated its 40th anniversary with a special hot-pot supper at their headquarters, the Briars Hall Hotel in Lathom.

Formed as Southport MG Owners in 1979, they were then based at The Richmond in Scarisbrick New Road and had just five members. Since then, the club has gone from strength to strength and now boasts more 90 members meeting every third Tuesday of the month with their main activities being to get out in their cherished MG cars and raising money for their favourite charities.

Around 50 members attended the 40th anniversary celebrations with chairman Ralph Greenhalgh reading out a brief history of the club and cutting a special cake made by member Joe Grindley.

This was followed by a number of presentations. The Club Supporter of the Year award went to David Graham; treasurer Dave Grant-Wilkie was awarded the Dargan Trophy in appreciation of his three years' hard work in the role; and a Lifetime Membership Award was presented to Nigel Malyan who recently stepped down from the committee after 14 years as chairman.

The club's next meeting will be on Tuesday, November 19 at Briars Hall starting at 8pm.

Church geared up for Big Quiz Night in aid of Christian charity

FOLLOWING on from last year's success Christ Church in Aughton is again hosting Tearfund's Big Quiz Night - and encouraging other churches and groups in the borough to take advantage of the 'ready-made, easy-to-host' event.

Tearfund is a Christian relief and development agency which has been working around the world for more than 50 years responding to disasters and helping to lift communities out of poverty.

As part of this, it provides a ready-made quiz for churches and other organisations to use as part of a fundraising event for the cause.

The Christ Church's quiz night will be held at the Ministry Centre in Long Lane on Saturday, November 16 from 7 to 9pm.

Entry costs £5 and all are welcome to take part.

Jane Lake, volunteer at Christ Church and one of the organisers of the Big Quiz Night, said: "We had a lot of fun last year and it was super-simple to hold the quiz night. All the hard work had been done for us in advance, we didn't have to think up questions or get anxious about ambiguous answers!

"The quiz was also a great way to welcome people from our wider community, including those who might not normally come to church, and all age groups enjoyed it."

Although Tearfund is offering churches and other groups the quiz pack to use on Saturday, November 16 - The allotted Big Quiz Night - the quiz can be used at any time although it must be ordered before November 16.

To sign up for The Big Quiz Night 2019, visit www.tearfund.org/quiz.

U3A members display their artwork

MEMBERS of the art group at the Mawdesley University of the Third Age (U3A) staged an exhibition of their work at Mawdesley Village Hall.

Group co-ordinator, Norman Foulds, said: "There was a wide range of artistic creativity on display across a number of different media. The exhibition was also held in conjunction with the U3A photographic group who displayed some of their photographs and was well supported with many positive comments being expressed."

Talented young divers aim to make splash at national championships

YOUNGSTERS from a West Lancs diving club will be aiming to make a big splash in the capital after winning at the regional rounds of a national competition.

Four members of Burscough Diving Club will represent their schools in the English Schools Swimming Association (ESSA) National Diving Championship to be held at the London Aquatics Centre next month following their performances at the qualifying round in Manchester.

Three of the four - Ruby Brown, 10, Ryan Ferra, 11, and Leon Ferra, 15 - came first in their respective age and competition categories - while 11-year-old Evie Grimes also won a place in the national finals by finishing second.

Club secretary Claire Brown said: "This is an amazing achievement which highlights the dedication and commitment of head coach, Carlos Ferra and the hard work put in by all of the divers."

Evie, Ryan and Leon are from Burscough and attend St Bede's Catholic High School in Ormskirk, while Ruby is from Shevington where she attends St Bernadette's Catholic Primary School.

They each competed in the 1m springboard event, while Leon also competed in the 3m springboard.

The Burscough Divers Club meet at the Nye Bevan Swimming Pool in Skelmersdale and also train at the Manchester Aquatics Centre. Anyone interested in joining can email Diving@burscoughdiving.club or visit Facebook page, Burscough Diving Club for further information.

New adaptation of classic to be staged at Atkinson

THIS autumn, Blackeyed Theatre brings to the stage a thrilling new adaptation of Charlotte Brontë's masterpiece Jane Eyre.

Adapted by Nick Lane, this production embarks on a major eight-month tour across the UK and beyond and will be at The Atkinson this Friday (November 8) and Saturday, November 9.

A Gothic masterpiece of tempestuous passions and dark secrets, Jane Eyre tells the thrilling story of an orphan and her journey from a childhood of loneliness and cruelty to a life at Thornfield Hall and an unlikely relationship with the mysterious Mr Rochester.

Falling in love, she gradually uncovers a hidden past to the gloomy, forbidding Thornfield Hall - a terrible secret that forces her to make a heart-wrenching choice.

Captivating, brooding and intensely powerful, Jane Eyre is a moving and unforgettable portrayal of one woman's quest for equality and freedom and remains one of the great triumphs of storytelling.

Originally Brontë published Jane Eyre under the male pseudonym Currer Bell. The literary world became consumed with the identity of the writer but even her publisher didn't know Currer Bell's gender. A woman in a man's world, Brontë wrote of a female character who, in spite of agonising hardships, manages to persevere and define her own happiness, rather than have it defined for her by others.

The cast features Kelsey Short as Jane Eyre (Class, Spur of the Moment; Broken, The White Bear), and Ben Warwick as Mr Rochester (Pentecost; The Oedipus Plays, Royal National Theatre; The Deep Blue Sea, Watford Palace; Les Liaisons Dangereuses and A Midsummer Night's Dream, Theatre Royal York.

Director and Producer Adrian McDougall commented: "Jane Eyre is simply epic in its vision and scope of ideas, in terms of time and space, and in its sheer emotional depth. I'm very conscious of the responsibility that comes with putting such an important and well-loved novel on stage, but it's a fantastic challenge for any theatre maker, and one that lends itself perfectly to the highly creative, bold brand of theatricality for which Blackeyed Theatre is known.

"What we produce will, I hope, induce that same intensity of feeling you get when you read the book: the joy, the despair and everything in between... A searing celebration of female empowerment, a beautiful, brooding love story, with a little Gothic horror thrown in for good measure!"

Kelsey Short as Jane Eyre and Ben Warwick as Mr Rochester

Writer Nick Lane commented: "Jane Eyre is such an important character in literature. She was iconic for a female character of her time, shaping her own destiny and risking everything to follow what she believed in.

"I think she's been an inspiration to a lot of women, and will continue to be so. There's satire, there's socio-economic commentary, there's this beautiful ache of a love story. But, for me, Jane's an underdog; all her life she's been underestimated or treated with resentment and contempt, yet she endures it all and prevails."

Behzod Abduraimov to perform at Parbold

Pianist who 'has it all' performing at village hall

CONCERTGOERS in Parbold are frequently treated to performances by world-class musicians, but on Saturday, November 23, at 7.45pm they will be able to hear one of the most exceptional pianists of our time, Behzod Abduraimov.

Critics have described him as 'a pianist who has it all', 'a super-virtuoso' and 'the most perfectly accomplished pianist of his generation'.

Tickets for the concert in the Auditorium of Parbold's Village Hall are available from www.parbold-douglasmusic.org.

Behzod Abduraimov came to the world's attention in 2009 at the age of just 18 when he won the London International Piano Competition.

He was instantly catapulted to international fame, and now regularly performs as a soloist, chamber musician and with leading orchestras, under prestigious conductors such as Valery Gergiev and Vladimir Ashkenazy.

He has released several award-winning CD recordings and his BBC Proms debut was released as a DVD.

He performs in the world's most famous venues, and returns to Carnegie Hall, New York in December, with the same programme he is bringing to Parbold – music by Chopin, Debussy and Mussorgsky.

The programme is a particularly creative selection of music for solo piano.

Behzod Abduraimov has chosen to perform all of Frederic Chopin's 24 Romantic Preludes.

Each Prelude has its own unique characteristics and to hear them performed as an entire group allows the listener to experience them as journey from start to finish.

Debussy's charming Children's Corner is a wonderfully nostalgic set of six pieces that he dedicated to his daughter.

The evening is completed with a performance of Mussorgsky's mighty Pictures at an Exhibition, where the audience can indulge their imagination as they listen to musical descriptions of paintings including The Gnome, The Old Castle and Baba Yaga's Hut on Hen's Legs.

Delivering quality services since 1888 to the people of Sefton and surrounding areas

Parkhaven Trust

Established 1888

Providing a range of services for older people and people with dementia, Parkhaven Trust has developed a reputation for delivering the services that people need since 1888.

From our original beginnings as the first residential service for people with epilepsy to today's innovative new service at The Beeches we have continued to develop and provide a range of services from at home care to end of life care. We work hard to maintain high standards and all of our services are inspected by the Care Quality Commission and are rated as "Good".

We encourage family involvement in our services and offer support to family members trying to make sense of the care system and difficult choices that have to be made. A unique feature of Parkhaven Trust is that we offer support from an initial diagnosis of dementia through to support for end of life care. We will be there supporting service users and their families.

We employ over 200 staff and are a major employer in the area employing staff as apprentices and staff who have worked with us for over 40 years. As an Investor in People Gold award employer we pride ourselves on recruiting and training excellent staff; it's the staff that make the difference to the care that we provide and they are proud to be part of the "Parkhaven Family"

If you are looking for a working arrangement that fits with your personal commitments why not join our staffing pool to work across our sites in Maghull. More information can be found on our website www.parkhaven.org.uk

'My lovely Husband'

I feel the same this morning, as I did do on that day,
Time didn't heal the heartache, or take the pain away.
Nevermind my love, today's a special day,
"Happy birthday Sweetheart"
We'll meet again some day.

To the stars and back P,
Your broken hearted Marie

They say that time's a healer,
but as the time goes on,
I seem to find it just as hard,
To face the fact you've gone.
You'll NEVER be forgotten,
and every day I shed a tear,
but it's only because I LOVE YOU
And wish you were still here.

There will be just two car companies in the future...

IN the future, I remember a top motor mogul once saying, there will be just two car companies. Or, to be exact, two car companies, and Morgan still fighting its way through a ten-year backlog of orders for the Plus 4.

How things have changed. Morgan's infamous ten-year waiting list is now – thanks at least partly to the help of Sir John Harvey Jones – more like six months, and it's owned by a group of Italian investors, making rather more cutting-edge models like the new Plus 6.

If all that can happen in a decade or two to a tiny company making 1930s throwbacks in the Malvern Hills, then it must be a tiny tremor compared to the earthquakes happening elsewhere in the car industry.

The latest one you might have read about is PSA, the French conglomerate that for decades has run Peugeot and Citroen, and owners of Vauxhall for the last two years, agreeing to a merger with Fiat, which itself has already merged with Chrysler. To me at least, it's a bit of a head-scratcher.

Suppose you're in the market for a five-door hatchback of the Golf/Focus ilk in a few years' time.

This new mega-conglomerate will, in theory, be able to sell you a Vauxhall Astra, a Peugeot 308, a Citroen C4 Cactus, a Fiat Bravo, an Alfa Romeo Giulietta and possibly some sort of small Chrysler.

All of which will either have to be sufficiently different to stand out – and less profitable as a result – or so closely related that they'll all end up with birth defects and Haemophilia.

If interbreeding doesn't work for dogs or royal families, I doubt it'll work on family hatchbacks either.

VW's managed it because the three basic spinoffs of its Golf – Skoda's Octavia, SEAT's Leon and Audi's A3 – are all very different cars that appeal to three different sets of people.

I spent 400 miles with a diesel Octavia SE Estate last weekend and it was superb, comfortably chomping through the motorway network in a quiet no-nonsense manner, but I know that however accomplished it is, it'll never steal a single sale from Audi A3 devotees or from Golf GTI hedonists.

To pull off the same trick with six or seven big companies already competing for the same middle ground's going to be very tricky indeed.

Get it right and I don't think the chaps at Ellesmere Port would mind building a Peugeot GTi or a small Alfa alongside their Astras, but get it wrong and it'll be the Austin/Wolseley/MG/Morris/Vanden Plas 1100 all over again.

One brilliant car, in other words, but made by a messy mix of companies that'll all eventually end in tears. Meanwhile, at Morgan…

06 Vauxhall encourages cleaner motoring thanks to SUV Trade Up

As environmental pollution is at the forefront of our minds, car manufacturers are working harder than ever ensuring vehicles produce as low emissions as possible*. With the latest incarnation of Euro 6 standards and more major UK cities looking to introduce low emission zones, local Vauxhall retailer, 06 Vauxhall, is encouraging cleaner motoring thanks to its SUV Trade Up event.

Until 26th November 2019, 06 Vauxhall is offering Ormskirk & Skelmersdale drivers the opportunity to Trade Up to a brand-new Vauxhall SUV, with at least £4,000 scrappage or part-exchange allowance with 4.9% APR Representative – and that's on top of the value of your car.

Available on the Mokka X, Crossland X or Grandland X, AREA motorists can get their hands on a new state-of-the-art car for less, as well as the ability to experience the latest in innovative technology on some of Vauxhall's most recent models.

By scrapping their old car, Ormskirk & Skelmersdale motorists can get their hands on the street-smart Mokka X, packed with robust style, attitude and practicality for city cruising or off-road driving. The life ready Crossland X is the perfect family car ready for any weekend trip, with all the ample storage space you could wish for. Alternatively, the Grandland X makes every journey a pleasure thanks to a host of premium luxury touches, superb connectivity and cutting-edge tech innovations.

What's more, to really help Ormskirk & Skelmersdale drivers get even more for their money, 06 Vauxhall is also offering 20% off genuine and Vauxhall approved accessories until 26th November 2019.

If that wasn't enough, for one weekend only between 8th and 11th November, 06 Vauxhall is offering an extra £600 saving on the Grandland X on top of the £4,000 allowance when motorists scrap or part-exchange their old car.

David Balch, General Sales Manager at 06 Vauxhall, said: "We understand motorists are more conscious than ever before when it comes to the environmental issues, we all face. This is why we have introduced our SUV Trade Up event to reward Ormskirk & Skelmerdale motorists for getting their older vehicles off the road.

"You can't beat the feeling of driving off the forecourt in a brand-new car for the first time, and thanks to our SUV Trade Up event, even more people are able to share that feeling by taking advantage of this great offer. We would like to encourage anyone considering upgrading their vehicle to visit us and take advantage of this fantastic offer."

The SUV Trade Up event is running until 26th November 2019, so act fast to make the most of this fantastic deal.

For further information about the SUV Trade Up event or any of the Vauxhall range, please contact 06 Vauxhall at 152 County Road, Ormskirk L39 1NW or Inchfield, Skelmerdale WN8 6LZ. Skem frustrated at second weekend without a match

Report by Neil Leatherbarrow

FRUSTRATINGLY for Skelmersdale United supporters, they are left without a fixture for the second Saturday on the run.

Skem's only game between October 22 and November 16 is a Liverpool Cup clash away to St Helens Town tomorrow evening (Thursday, November 7).

Skem's next league game is the first of three consecutive home league games in an eight day period, when they play Hanley Town at Prescot on Saturday, November 16.

The following Tuesday (November 19) they entertain Congleton Town before on Saturday, November 23 they are at home to Northwich Victoria.

Burscough will look to put last weekend's heavy defeat behind them when they host Barnoldswick Town this Saturday.

Burscough go into Saturday's match almost desperate to win and on paper they do have a chance.

Barnoldswick currently sit in 15th place in the North West Counties Premier Division table, only four places ahead of the Linnets.

In terms of form, the Linnets are showing signs of gathering some momentum, although they haven't won a league game since August.

They have drawn 1-1 at Congleton Town and only lost on penalties to a strong Southport team last week in the Liverpool Cup, drawing 2-2 on the day and hitting the woodwork late on.

However, sandwiching those encounters Burscough have lost 5-0 at home to Ashton Athletic and lost 6-0 at Winsford United on Saturday.

To balance the Linnets inconsistencies out Barnoldswick have lost all their last four games including 2-0 at Stockton Town in the FA Vase on Saturday.

Barnoldswick perhaps more significantly have changed managers in October.

Matt Barnes, who had been manager since May left to join Prestwich Heys, and Endrit Shehu was promoted from the coaching staff to take over as manager. Possibly just as significant is the fact that Barnoldswick have dropped from 11th to 15th in the league table since Barnes left.

Burscough have a crucial encounter coming up at Victoria Park when they take on the only team behind them in the league table, Litherland Remyca.

The loser will be bottom of the league and in severe relegation trouble. Litherland are struggling badly.

They lost 9-0 to 1874 Northwich on Saturday and Burscough will not want to swap places with them.

Linnets concede six in heavy away defeat

Matthews calls for instant response after thrashing at Winsford

Winsford United 6
Burscough 0

BURSCOUGH were thrashed in last Saturday's league encounter against Winsford United when they conceded six goals without reply.

The Linnets were made to pay for a slow start and conceded the first goal after only three minutes and were 4-0 down by half time.

Winsford added two more goals in the second half to make it a miserable afternoon for Burscough, who will aim to quickly move on from this heavy defeat in the hope of climbing up the league table to avoid a relegation battle.

The Linnets currently sit in 19th place with only Litherland Remyca below them, having picked up six points from their opening 13 matches of the season.

Burscough manager Nick Matthews told the North West Counties Football League website after the Winsford defeat: "I'm very disappointed. We put in two good performances in the previous two games, 1-1 away at Congleton, a game in which we played with ten men for 40 minutes and then the 2-2 draw with Southport in the Liverpool Senior Cup on Tuesday.

"I thought we had put the bad away day performances to bed.

"But this was one of the worst defensive performances collectively as a team I have witnessed. Individual errors cost us the first three goals, all three could have easily been avoided.

"We had two great chances at 1-0 down and in truth should have been 1-2 up, but failed to capitalise and within minutes we are 0-2 and then quickly 0-3.

"I am hoping it's just a blip as the lads have worked hard and the group of strangers we had was starting to look like a team."

Ashley at the double as Tigers roar to victory

A FIRST success of the season for Edge Hill University's rugby league side was one of the highlights of the latest round of BUCS fixtures.

The Tigers defeated Huddersfield firsts 24-0 thanks to second-half tries from Jacob Ashley (2), Brad Calland, Sam Makin and Harry Phillips, with Nathan Taylor kicking the remaining points.

The unbeaten men's firsts' tennis squad inflicted a first defeat on Keele firsts 4-2.

Two-down after the first singles rubbers, Oliver Macneil and Archie Dubbins were victorious, before Joe Wilkinson and Dubbins teamed up to win their doubles clash, with Luke Myles and Macneil completing the job.

There was no such luck for the university's football and rugby union teams. The former sport saw the men's firsts go down 3-2 at Liverpool firsts, while the seconds lost 1-0 to UCLAN seconds. In the 15-a-side game, the men's firsts lost for the first time this campaign, 15-5 to Liverpool Hope firsts, while the women suffered defeat in their first match of 2019/20, their depleted outfit losing 71-15 to Durham seconds.

...no better luck for Burscough in cup after penalty heartache

Southport 2
Burscough 2
(Southport win 5-3 on penalties)

BURSCOUGH were knocked out of the Liverpool Senior Cup when they were beaten on penalties by Southport.

The Linnets were in action on Tuesday, October 29 when they made the short trip to the Yellows when they played out an entertaining 2-2 draw across 90 minutes.

Adam Weston put the visitors ahead on 25 minutes but Southport hit back minutes after the re-start through Jack Sampson.

Russell Benjamin put Southport 2-1 ahead and the home side looked to be easing towards a victory before Jordan Coates equalised for Burscough with only ten minutes to go.

Both sides pressed for the winner but they had to settle for penalties.

Southport ended up winning 5-3 on penalties, meaning they reached the quarter-finals of the competition.

Coates celebrates equalising for Burscough

Planning the Perfect Christmas

Now that Halloween and Bonfire Night are behind us, it is time to start thinking about Christmas. Doesn't the year just seem to speed up right around now? Christmas should be a time filled with fun, laughter and happiness, but there can also be a fair amount of stress and worry thrown in to. So instead of sitting back and relaxing now for the next few weeks, why not get yourself organised and spend November preparing for Christmas, so that December can be spent enjoying it.

Set a Budget

If you are working to a strict budget, one thing to bear in mind is that Christmas is not an emergency. You know it's coming, so you can prepare all year for it if you are organised.

Make a list of all the people you intend to buy for early in the year, along with an amount that you intend spend on each person. Include Christmas cards, decorations, wrapping paper, food and drink, and even money for Christmas nights out in this budget. Total it up and then divide it by 12 (or the number of months you intend to spend saving) This will give you a figure to save each month to ensure you can have the Christmas you want, without the worry of wondering how you will pay for it all. You will find that most year's you will buy gifts for the exact same people, so it's pretty easy to plan for.

Putting a set amount away, per month in a Christmas savings account from the beginning of the year makes it so much easier. Whenever you buy a gift or make any other Christmas purchase, simply transfer the money over from the Christmas account.

If you don't save for Christmas yet, we challenge you to start next year.

Start buying gifts as early as possible

Start buying presents! Try setting yourself the goal of having most, or even all of your Christmas presents bought and wrapped by 30th November. If you are a procrastinator about Christmas then this will likely sound crazy, and totally unrealistic but that feeling of knowing it is all done and boxed off so you can really enjoy the run up to the big day without that stress makes it totally worth it.

November is the 'new' Christmas

New shopping trends have made their way across the Atlantic to influence UK spending habits in the run up to Christmas.

Events such as Black Friday and Cyber Monday mean that shoppers can get their Christmas savings earlier than ever before. And with the advent of these new 'spending' holidays, why wait for December and all the associated price hikes to buy your Christmas presents.

Get rid of clutter before Christmas

It should be out with the old, and in with the new. No one wants to feel like their house is a cluttered mess at any time of the year, but particularly at Christmas, with new gifts piled on top of old ones. So get rid of the clutter before Christmas gets here. For every new toy your children will open on Christmas morning, get rid of two. Make the kids a part of it so they know they're donating their well-loved toys to others. It's also a great time to sort through and organise your clothes, garage, cupboards and kitchen.

Decorate like a minimalist

We all like to be festive and no one wants to be a Grinch, but don't feel like it's necessary to put up a Christmas tree in every single room in your house – this isn't Whoville!

Instead of decorating the entire house, keep it simple by decorating just the tree and maybe the mantel. Focus on your main living spaces, the areas of the home where your family gathers most. Take some pressure off yourself and ignore the urge to create a winter wonderland inside (or outside) your home this year.

Remember what Christmas is all about

Christmastime is meant to be filled with joy, laughter and merriment. So make sure you carve out time with family and friends to reconnect with one another. Make sure you remember Christmas this year. Don't let the month go by in a blur. Try not to get so caught up in the hustle and bustle that you for forget to enjoy the people you are doing all this for. By starting early, you'll be able to have a merry – and much less stressful Christmas!

Gift Giving at Christmas

For many people, there really is nothing more magical than Christmas...

Children almost bursting in anticipation of Christmas morning, and the thought of waking up to a mountain of presents piled high in the living room or at the end of their beds.

And let's face it, once those must have Christmas toys have finally been wrapped up, there's nothing better than seeing their little faces light up at the sight of all their presents.

But where did the act of gift giving at Christmas come from? It dates back many, many years, centuries in fact. The birth of Jesus is a well known story and after giving birth, Mary, Joseph and their new baby boy were visited by the Biblical Magi (Three Wise Men) who travelled to Bethlehem to present gifts of gold, frankincense and myrrh. Some Eastern Orthodox Churches and European countries still celebrate the traditional date of the Magi's arrival – January 6th or Three Kings' Day – with a Christmas-like gift exchange.

The Romans traded gifts during Saturnalia and 13th century French nuns distributed presents to the poor on St. Nicholas' Eve. However gift giving did not become the central Christmas tradition it is today until the late 18th century.

Gifts were meant to remind people of the Magi's offerings to Jesus and of God's gift of Christ to humankind. But despite the rationalised Christian roots of gift-giving, the practice ultimately steered Christmas closer to what we have today. Stores began placing Christmas-themed ads in newspapers in 1820. Santa Claus started popping up in adverts and stores 20 years later and by 1867, Macy's department store in New York City stayed open until midnight on Christmas Eve, allowing last-minute shoppers to make their purchases.

Today, Christmas is a full on gift-giving bonanza. Desperate parents scrabble in a mad dash for the latest must have toys. Stores bring out the tinsel and decorations earlier and earlier and high streets around the country are packed with eager shoppers. All of this has made Christmas, a single day in late December, swell into a three month season.

Arranging Care at Christmas

It might be difficult to see your elderly loved one at Christmas. Despite the potential for spending quality time with family, you might well be rushed off your feet, based away from home or restricted by poor weather conditions. However there are things you can do to make sure that your loved one receives the care and attention he or she needs throughout the Christmas period and to ensure they don't face this time of year alone.

Arranging care for the holidays

Nearly half a million elderly people in the UK are facing the holiday season alone this year. However, there is support available so that no one needs to suffer the sadness of a solitary Christmas. Christmas can be a sad time for the bereaved and a lonely time for the elderly. Dementia, disability and disease, together with friends and relatives being pulled in many different directions can mean that too many people are facing a lonely festive season. However, there is support out there to help bring some festive cheer. As Age UK says, 'no one should have no one at Christmas'. So, if either you, or someone you care about is potentially facing Christmas alone this year, don't suffer in silence.

Help at home

Consider a care agency so that a carer can come into the home to provide holiday help, and perhaps some festive treats and a friendly chat. The level of support can be matched to each individual's needs. From just a few hours here and there, helping prepare meals and housework, to live-in caregivers who can support your loved one in the comfort of their own home throughout the holiday period. A carer can mean that you can get some rest and respite, knowing that your loved one is safe.

Residential respite

A short period of replacement care in a residential home can be a good option over the Christmas period. Care homes are usually beautifully decorated at this time of year and there are any number of activities in place to entertain residents over the festive period. With lots of people around, they should be able to get the care they need in a safe and social environment.

Christmas traditions

Christmas Stockings

Leaving stockings out at Christmas goes back to the legend of St Nicholas. Known as the gift giver, on one occasion he sent bags of gold down a chimney at the home of a poor man who had no dowry for his unmarried daughters. The gold fell into stockings that had been left hanging to dry. St Nicholas was later referred to by the Dutch as Sinterklaas and eventually, by English-speakers, as Santa Claus.

Christmas Carols

Carols were songs and dances of praise and joy in pagan times and the practice of carol singing carried over into the Christian era. Carols have been written through the centuries but the most familiar date from Victorian times. Today, popular Christmas songs such as Bing Crosby's White Christmas and Slade's Merry Christmas Everyone are just as much a part of Christmas as carols.

Step by Step Planner for the Perfect Christmas Dinner

Cooking the biggest and the most important roast dinner of the year can be stressful. So it is important to get your timings, preparation and ingredients all in order beforehand.

While it might feel like overkill before the big event, once you are rushing around the kitchen surrounded by resting meat, red hot potatoes and rapidly cooling stuffing, a detailed check list of everything that needs to be done can make all the different between the perfect Christmas and a cold roast dinner made by a very stressed cook.

Everyone's Christmas menu is different, so the timings included below may need to be adapted. The check list is for a dinner served at 2pm, with a 5kg stuffed turkey, but always check your meat is cooked through with a thermometer for proper peace of mind.

Throughout December

- ✔ Make sure your turkey is ordered from the butcher, along with any other special items.
- ✔ Start stocking up on alcohol, take advantage of deals as and when you see them.
- ✔ If you do your grocery shopping online, book your delivery slot as far in advance as possible.
- ✔ Pre make and freeze things like mince pies and sausage rolls, which you can then bake from frozen.

One week to go

- ✔ Go Christmas food shopping.
- ✔ Make sure you are not missing any important cookware. Do you have enough plates, glasses etc for you and your guests. It'll be too late if you realise you don't on the 25th.
- ✔ If you are cooking a frozen turkey, take this out the freezer a few days before to defrost in the fridge.
- ✔ Clear some space and designate areas for all the extra food you will be stocking up on.

23rd December

Now it's time to buy all the fresh produce you will need.

Christmas Eve

- ✔ Make your stuffing, wrap it and store in the fridge.
- ✔ Peel, boil and fluff up the potatoes in advance for tomorrow, then cover and keep in the fridge.
- ✔ Do as much prep for tomorrow as possible. It's a good idea to parboil sprouts, then chill and finish off in the frying pan just before serving.
- ✔ Make a check list of the different things you will need to do tomorrow with timings. You'll be so glad you did!

Christmas Day

8am take your turkey and stuffing out of the fridge and allow to come up to room temperature.

9.30am preheat the oven and rub the turkey with butter, or oil and season. Fill it with the stuffing.

10am get your bird in the oven. Remember to baste regularly throughout the cooking time and to cover in foil if needed.

11am set the table. Do any remaining prep such as peeling or chopping.

12pm put your Christmas pudding on to steam. This should take around three hours.

1pm remove the turkey from the oven and make sure it is cooked through. Cover tightly and leave to rest, then drain and de glaze the juices to make your gravy. Turn up the heat and put roasting trays full of oil or goose fat in the oven to warm up.

1.15pm place your potatoes in the hot oil / fat and make sure they are completely covered. Return to the oven. Do the same with any other roast vegetables.

1.30pm place the pigs in blankets in the oven, then keep warm if they cook through in less than 30 mins. Boil the water for the vegetables.

1.40pm begin boiling and stir frying the remaining veg. Keep your eye on everything in the oven. Make sure your gravy is ready and begin heating through any other sauces.

1.50pm start sautéing the Brussels sprouts with chestnuts and bacon. Open the wine!!

2pm get everyone together at the table and then eat, drink and be merry!

3pm remove the Christmas pudding from the heat and serve.....with lots and lots of brandy butter.

3.30pm serve the cheese and then you're done. Retire to a nice comfy chair and enjoy a well earned rest while those you have cooked for clear away and wash up.

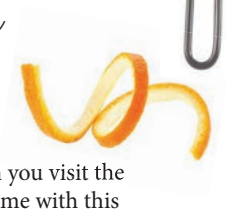
Christmas cocktail recipes

Enjoy a festive tipple this Christmas with these fantastic cocktail recipes – we have included festive fizzes and some great rum punches.

Christmas Mulled Wine



EASY
Serves 6
Ready in: 10 mins

Are you a fan of festive mulled wine when you visit the Christmas markets? Make your own at home with this perfect-every-time recipe.

Ingredients

1 bottle of fruity, medium-bodied red wine
3 - 4 cloves
2 small cinnamon sticks
2cm fresh ginger
1 large juicy orange, sliced
75g caster sugar
2 tbsp good quality brandy

Method

1. In a large pan, slowly warm the wine, cloves, cinnamon sticks, ginger and orange.

2. As the mixture heats up, add the caster sugar and brandy, stir, then taste. Add more sugar and / or more brandy, if you like.

3. Continue to heat until warmed through butdo not let the mixture boil or the mull will spoil. Ladle into heatproof glass tumblers (avoiding the whole spices) and then hand around the wine to your guests while still steaming hot. Make a fresh batch if you need more as reheating any leftover after more than 20 minutes will mean the flavours taste stewed and overly spiced.

200ml boiling water
1 cinnamon stick, broken in half
25g buttered
4 long rosemary sprigs

Method

1. Put all ingredients, apart from the butter and rosemary, in a small pan over a medium heat. Warm, stirring, until the sugar dissolves and the toddy is steaming (do not boil)

2. Add in the butter and stir until melted. Divide among heatproof glasses or cups and then add a sprig of rosemary to each one.

Decorating Your Home for Christmas

You know what makes the best time of year even better? Decking out your house with Christmas decorations that really set the mood. Whether you prefer traditional décor or something a bit more out there, decorating your home at Christmas is the first step is spreading some festive cheer.

Traditionally, the living room is the main gathering place in the home at Christmas. Decorating a Christmas tree is a time honoured tradition for many households. It's wonderful to pass houses in the run up to the big day and see beautifully decorated trees in the window, decked out in festive lights and ornaments. The first step in decorating your tree is adding the lights. These will typically come on green or white wire strands. Choose a colour that matches your tree so the wire will be hidden. Illuminating your Christmas tree from the inside out will give it the most dynamic look. When it comes to baubles and tree decorations, to showcase your favourites, place them in prime positions on the tree first. Next, hang your larger ornaments, spacing them evenly and then fill in the gaps with the medium and smaller sized baubles. Be sure to hang some closer to the trunk to create depth and interest.

Once the Christmas tree is in place, decorate your mantle with some simple white lights to create a warm mood. By using the same kind of lighting throughout the room, on your tree, fireplace, door frames and even your windows, you will create a seamless and stylish look. In addition to the lights, decorate your mantle with some seasonal greenery along with some ribbons and ornaments for a pop of colour. Layer artificial pine, spruce and juniper for a festive garland that will bring an outdoor, wintry element to the room. Birch twigs, winterberry and silvery pinecones will all add some sparkle. Place cream or off white pillar candles in a staggered configuration along with some small topiary plants, glass hurricanes filled with colourful Christmas ornaments and a festive wreath hung on the wall over your mantel arrangement to complete the look.

Christmas cushions, richly hued throws, fun festive kitchen dish towels, scented candles and glass bowls filled with Christmas ornaments will all add a festive touch around the home. Christmas decorating is all about bringing back those happy memories as well as creating new ones.

Indulging a person's sense of smell is another sure fire way to wow family and friends over the Christmas period. Seasonal scents such as pine, cranberry, gingerbread, fir and cinnamon are just a few options for candles and scented décor. Evoke seasonal florals, freshly baked food and Christmas-time cooking spices with scented oil warmers on side tables along with pine cones in a statement bowl on your coffee table for subtle festive fragrance.

Our favourite Christmas traditions and their origins

The first Christmas Card

Over 175 years ago, the world's first Christmas card was sent.

The "Penny Post" was first introduced in Britain in 1840 by Rowland Hill. The idea was simple, a penny stamp paid for the postage of a letter or card to anywhere in Britain. This simple idea paved the way for the sending of the first Christmas cards.

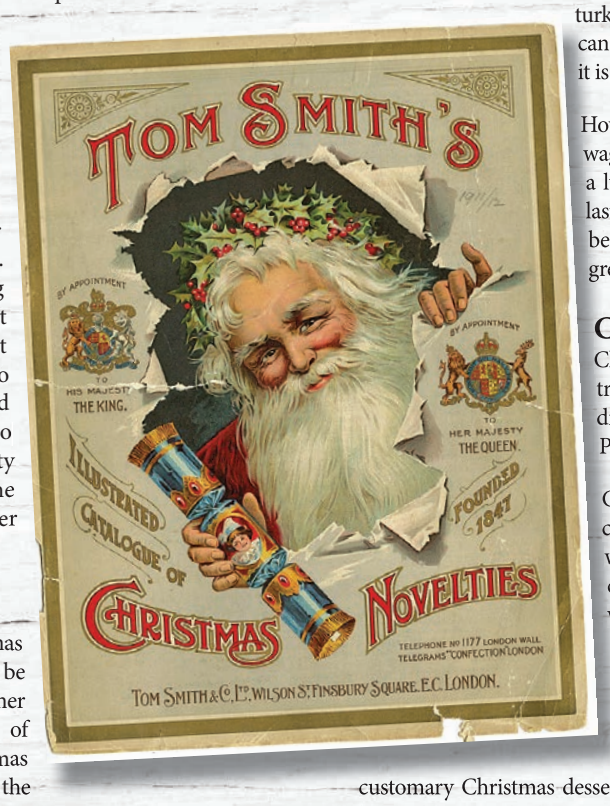
Having helped set up the Public Records Office (now known as the Post Office) Sir Henry Cole and his artist friend John Horlsey tested the water by creating the first Christmas cards in 1843. 1000 were printed for sale in his London art shop and cost a shilling each. As printing methods became faster and less expensive, the price of the cards came down. This along with the introduction of the half penny post meant that by the 1870's, the tradition of sending cards at Christmas was hugely popular.

The History of the Christmas Tree

Christmas trees have been around for a millennium in Northern Europe, but the first one did not appear in the UK until the 1830's. When Queen Victoria's German husband Prince Albert put up a Christmas tree at Windsor Castle in 1841, that began the popular tradition of having a decorated tree up at Christmas and by the 1860's, it was common in place in households around the country.

Christmas Crackers

In the late 1840's, almost by accident, London sweet-maker Tom Smith invented the cracker. It was a simple idea inspired by traditional, paper wrapped French bonbons. These were included, along with mottos or riddles but initially sales were slow and it wasn't until he found a way to make them 'crack' when pulled apart that sales really began to take off. Hats and other novelty gifts were later added and the tradition continues today, over 170 years on.



Turkey at Christmas

It's almost a given that on Christmas day, people across the nation will be carving up a turkey at the dinner table. A staggering 87 per cent of people in the UK believe Christmas would not be Christmas without the traditional roast turkey at the table.

Turkeys were introduced in Britain by Yorkshireman William Strickland more than 500 years ago when he acquired six birds from American Indian traders on his travels. Prior to this, the meat of choice for people at Christmas was geese, boars head and even peacock.

Having been brought over the Atlantic from the New World by Mr Strickland, King Henry VIII was the first King of England to feast on turkey although it was King Edward VII we can thank for turning it into a festive mainstay it is today.

However, even in 1930 it cost a full week's wage to buy a turkey and therefore it remained a luxury until the 1950's. It is only over the last 60 years that it has gone mainstream and become the regular feature it is today for a great majority of British households.

Christmas Pudding

Christmas (or Plum) Pudding is the traditional end to the British Christmas dinner. But what we think of as Christmas Pudding is not what is was originally like!

Christmas pudding originated as a 14th century porridge called 'frumenty' that was made of beef and mutton, with raisins, currants, prunes, wines and spices. This would be more like a soup and was eaten as a fasting meal in preparation for the Christmas festivities. By the late 1500's. Frumenty was slowly changing to a plum pudding having been thickened with eggs, dried fruits and alcohol. It became the customary Christmas dessert around 1650, but in 1664 the Puritans banned it as a bad custom. However in 1714, King George I re-established it as part of the Christmas meal having tasted and enjoyed Plum Pudding. By Victorian times, Christmas puddings had changed into something similar to the ones enjoyed today.
